

What happens when you find out the boy you've been raising is NOT your biological son?

What do you say when your co-worker claims the man you wanted?

What do you do when you have to miss out on all the fun because of the baby?

How do you feel when you overhear what folks say about you once they think you're dead?

Meet these and other characters who have to figure it out, fight it out, work it out - in

Searching for a Signal

Sunday, August 1, 2010 at 4:00 p.m.

Dance Place • 3225 Eighth Street, N.E.

Washington, DC 20017

(Dance Place is at the Brookland-CUA Metrorail station.)

Tickets $15 — Purchase online at www.dcblacktheatrefestival.com